The Thera-6 and V2000SX range – guaranteed for life*

Built in Europe by a company with over 45 years of manufacturing expertise, this range promises unrivaled style and engineering. The range represents excellent value for wholesalers, specifiers and customers alike.

Thera-6 TRV head

Good looks that last

The Thera-6 thermostatic radiator head is not only amazingly compact and beautifully designed, it has been rigorously engineered and tested for durability, making it an ideal choice for residential heating applications.

Its high control accuracy rating means it also meets the highest energy efficiency standards of the new EN215.

As well as being built to last with premium quality materials, the radiator head is supported by a lifetime guarantee.

V2000SX valve range

Perfect fit for the installer

The V2000SX thermostatic radiator valves are truly versatile, fitting at least 90% of radiator applications.

Packed with a variety of flow rate pre-setting and covering a host of patterns and connection types, the V2000SX is perfect for every installation from new builds to retrofit projects.

Tested beyond normal European quality standards, with superior valve spring force compared with competitor units, it's designed with durability in mind. The V2000SX is also supported by a lifetime guarantee.

Continuous flow control for life.*
